PROF. KIRKPATRICK PLANS TO ORGANIZE UNIVERSITY CHORUS

Forty-four Men and Women
Apply For Membership

PREXY ENDORSES

Plan To Sing In June At Commencement; 50 Books
Ordered

Forty-four men and women signed a petition which was circulated last Saturday by the editor of Ka Leo, asking Dr. Paul Kirkpatrick to organize a University Chorus, and pledging him assistance and cooperation in the project.

Crawford Endorses

President David L. Crawford has heartily endorsed the move, and has promised whatever support, financial as well as moral, is possible from the Administration, in organizing and maintaining the work of such a Chorus.

Fifty music books have already been ordered from the mainland by Professor Kirkpatrick, and they are expected to arrive within a couple of weeks.

Both Men and Women

In previous years the University Glee Club was composed solely of men, but Professor Kirkpatrick is planning to organize this year a Chorus, composed of both men and women. About 20 women signed the petition Saturday.

Within the coming week or two, Professor Kirkpatrick will try to interview every one who is interested in joining the Chorus. Any member of the university who did not sign the petition on Saturday, and who is interested in glee club work, is asked to see Professor Kirkpatrick at his earliest convenience.

Sing At Commencement

Professor Kirkpatrick is planning to have the Chorus sing at the Commencement exercises in June, and also on University Day, in May.

If the work of the Chorus proves satisfactory, a concert may be given in the fall.

Considering the interest which was shown in the project of organizing a university chorus it is expected that the project will turn out successfully.

A Cosmopolitan Chorus

A glance at the names of those who signed the petition Saturday shows that the Chorus will be as cosmopolitan a group as can be presented by any university. There are no lines drawn here. Anyone who has had a little experience in singing is eligible to try out for the Chorus.

Student Y Has Many Activities In Week

Some thirty professors and their wives and students attended the first Annual Meeting of the Territorial Young Men's Christian Association, last Monday evening. As the representative of the Student Christian Association of the University on the General Board of the Territorial Y. M. C. A., President D. L. Crawford reported on the work of the University Y. M. C. A.

An unusually fine talk was given by Bishop Burns, on the "Islands of The Sea." Any opportunity to hear Bishop Burnes is one opportunity fully worth grasping.

Rumpus at Kahala

In spite of the careful and well planned program, of Walter Mihata, the Chairman of the Adelphai-U. H. Y. picnic, it turned out to be a "rumpus," in parts. "Men, wolves and guns," with the laughing help of . . . Adelphites, might have called out the "fire wagon," if a hurry up call for "eats," hadn't been uttered by Sam Kawahara, chief cook and chef of the "Y."

Deans Conquer Pals By Strong Comeback

Varsity Wins, 32-24, In A
Hard-Fought Casaba
Battle

Fighting like Trojans, the University of Hawaii cagers staged a remarkable comeback and defeated the powerful Palama combine 32-24 in the second contest of a doubleheader held last Friday evening at the Palama gymnasium court.

Two Extra Periods

Due to the closeness and fierceness of the struggle, the issue could not be settled within the allotted time. It required two extra sessions of the speediest and most sensational playing ever seen on the Palama floor to decide the victors of the battle.

The Varsity casaba-tossers coordinated beautifully. They unleashed a timely attack which enabled them to penetrate through the defense of the local league leaders and tally the deciding markers. The Deans were equally supreme on the defense and covered the West side marksmen effectively.

Fifty Best Voices Wanted For Chorus

Dr. Paul Kirkpatrick Ready
To Start Work On Mixed
Glee Club

The history of voluntary musical organizations at this university is a story of initial enthusiasms followed by gradual decline under the competition of the multitude of other student interests, and finally abandonment. Some persons have come to the conclusion that it is the inevitable cycle for projects which have the temerity to ask hard work and strict discipline of students, without rewarding them with money, credit, or very much glory. But the amount of interest which has recently been displayed in the formation of a University Chorus has all but convinced me that such is not necessarily the rule, and I am more than willing to make trial of the matter.

A vocal organization including both men and women students would seem to have certain social and artistic advantages in its favor and such a group may well become one of our stable and enduring student activities. However, it is my idea at the present time to form a chorus with the particular objective of having a part in the Commencement ceremonies.

President Crawford has approved this plan and is prepared to give the Chorus prominence on the Commencement and Baccalaureate programs as its merit may justify. This does not mean that the Chorus will have no other

Dr. Leebrick To Give Informal Talk Series

A series of informal talks which promise to be of unusual interest will be given by Prof. K. C. Leebrick under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. The general topic is "American Political Problems," and Professor Leebrick will discuss these in the light of information gathered on his recent sabbatical leave on the mainland.

Starts March 9

The lectures will be given at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, 310 Punahou street, on Wednesday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock. The first will be given on March 9 and will be on the topic of "Executive Politics." Others in the series will be "Legislative Politics," March 16; "Judicial Politics," March 23; "State and Territorial Politics," March 30.

Students and the interested public are invited to attend the series. A fee of $1.50 will be charged for the series.

Noted Editor And Publisher
Speaks On Journalism
As Profession

E. H. Baker, editor and publisher of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and one of the directors of the Associated Press, addressed the combined American Institutions and Journalism classes in Gartley Hall last Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Baker discussed some of the problems confronting modern newspapers, and gave helpful advice to those starting out in the newspaper game.

How To Start

"It is not necessary to start your career on a big paper with a responsible position," the speaker stated in discussing the problems confronting the "cub" reporter. "It is much better to get your first experience on some small paper, where you will come in contact with more diversified phases of newspaper work than would be possible on a large paper."

"The tendencies on a large paper are toward specialization. You soon get into some one department, and learn little except the handling of this department's news. On a small paper, one has to do a little of everything, and by the time one gets to a big paper, he has had enough general experience to know what particular field of work he wishes to follow."

History of Journalism

Mr. Baker gave a brief history of the development of newspapers, contrasting their present state with the old days of the hand press, where the editor used the paper primarily to express his own opinions and had no definite policy as have the papers of today. He also spoke of the large mass

Hawaiian String Orchestra Formed By Sam Kahanamoku

Sam Kahanamoku, the university's star swimmer, has considerable musical talent as well and has organized a seven piece Hawaiian orchestra. The aim of this orchestra is appreciation and enjoyment of the best Hawaiian melodies. Or as Sam says, "sometimes sentimental, but not jazzy."

These boys meet twice a week for practice. They are keeping themselves in readiness for a Hawaiian concert at any time. Although they will not hire out to play jazz for dances, some of the members are versatile enough to play for private parties.

The members of the Hawaiian String Orchestra follow: David Kamai, first tenor; Moses Inaina, first tenor; Sonny Kaeo, baritone; Fred Paoa, baritone; Dan Ainoa, bass; Willie Whittle and Sam Kahanamoku, leading voices.

DRAMATIC CLUB PREPARES TO STAGE BARRIE'S PLAY

Students Urged To Help
Sell Last Tickets For
"Admirable Crichton"

"The Admirable Crichton" is scheduled for Friday night—THIS Friday. We've had difficulty getting the money, but the way looks clear now. But we cannot rest. The job is not done—we've got to strive harder in the next few hours before the play than we ever have before. We have advertising expenses to pay, and some production costs to meet. This play is not a production presented and supported by the Dramatic Club. It is being produced by the University AS A WHOLE, and the name of the University is vitally connected with it. YOU are a member of the University.

We make a last appeal to you. It is not a blind, floundering appeal. We appeal to you for support in ticket selling because WE BELIEVE THAT IN THIS PLAY YOU HAVE SOMETHING WORTH SUPPORTING.

Second Drama Night Pleases Audience

Three Plays Presented At Parish House With Success

The University of Hawaii Dramatic Night, given last Thursday evening at the Central Union Parish house, was pronounced a success by all who attended. Three plays were given, and all were about equally good, though the last might have been given the edge in the favor of the audience.

"Suppressed Desires"

"Suppressed Desires," the first play of the evening, was cleverly done, the characters well chosen, and in spite of the fact that Stephen "Be-rooster" almost forgot his cue, we enjoyed the play thoroughly. Dot Waters was very convincing, so much so that she almost made us think we had one of those "mental toenails" disturbing us. Gertrude Martin always does well as she is versatile and adapts herself readily to any part on the stage.

"Four-Flushers"

"The Four-Flushers" came next, and was amusing in its tragedy. No, it wasn't melodramatic, it was true to life. Larry Thomas, the lead in this play, did well. He always does, whether he is the hero, heroine (remember the dormitory play?) or just a page boy. He always stands out. Perhaps it is his

Jawndess Win From U. H. In Slug-Fest

The University of Hawaii pill-tossers failed to maintain their winning streak, losing to the league-leading Standard Oil ball players 13-3 in a slugfest staged last Saturday afternoon at Moiliili field.

Coach Otto Klum sent two pitchers, "Lefty" Ishii and Horio, to the mound to check the batting rampage of the Oilers. They hurled their best, but they could not prevent the Iwieli sluggers from scoring.

Gerdes Hits Hard

Joe Gerdes continued his batting stride, garnering three hits out of five trips to the platter. The Dean speedster also scored one of the three Deans' tallies. Captain Nishihara, besides cracking a single, scored one run. Hong Chang Wong secured a hit and collected two putouts.

Al Lemes was responsible for the third run registered by the university nine.

Popular Comedy Will Be Given At Princess
Theatre

FRIDAY—SATURDAY

Cast And Production Staff
Busy Making Final
Plans

Final preparations are now being made for the presentation of J. M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton" at the New Princess theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

The play was given over KGU last Monday evening, winning considerable favorable comment. The members of the cast have mastered their parts satisfactorily, and Coach John M. Baker promises a pleasing performance.

The production staff is industriously at work, completing the final arrangements for the presentation of the play.

Cast of Play

The cast that will present the play will include Harold Shaw as Crichton, and Miss Cornelia MacIntyre as Lady Mary. The others are:

John Devereux as Ernest; Arthur Wriston as Lord Loam; Robert Thompson as Lord Brocklehurst; Miss Winifred Webster as Agatha; Miss Ruth Irwin as Tweeny; Addison Dishman as Treherne; Miss Anne Moore as Fisher; Miss Grete Glud as Jane; Frank "Larry" Thomas as page; Miss Iris Houston as Jeanne; and Miss Doris Hair as Mrs. Perkins.

Minor Roles

Minor characters include Albert Lemes, who appears in the play as M. Fleury, the chef; Edward Cushnie, who will be Tompsett, the coachman; Percy Lydgate, the naval officer who rescues the family of Lord Loam from the island in the South Seas; Dan McCoy, who will take the part of Thomas, the footman; Frank Thomas, a pageboy who shouts at an inopportune moment during a tea; Miss Lena Comstock, Simmons, a maid who doesn't get to go to the island; Miss Glud, Jane, one of the kitchen servants who have an important part in adding to the comedy of the production; Miss Houston, Jeanne, a petit french maid; Miss Hair, Mrs. Perkins, the small housekeeper of the Loam home.

Production Staff

The production committee is as follows: General chairman of scenery, costumes, and properties, Miss Leonie Schwallie; assistant, Miss Virginia Davis; scenery, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cornelison; costumes, Miss Flora Woodhull; properties, Miss Isabel Hockley; make-up, Miss Sylvia Dean, business manager, Hong Chang Wong; assistant business manager, Percy Smith; advertising manager, William Lydgate; stage manager, Orme Cheatham; ticket manager, Edward Keyes; assistant ticket manager, Daniel McCoy; electrician, Elmer Harpham.

The play is being coached by Prof. John M. Baker, assisted by Miss Alla Neely.

Course In Culture At U. H. Proves Popular

The evening course in Comparative culture is proving to be very popular according to the size of the audiences. Miss Mac Neil gives out the following statistics as to enrollment: twenty five credit students and ten non-credit students. She is at a loss to explain the large audience. Evidently folks are going to this class because they like what is being presented. Professor Smith has given the first three lectures and they are indeed alive and keen. No one can be accused of being sleepy or bored, and at the same time he directs a series of pointed questions so characteristic of this professor that one can hardly refrain from joining in the general discussions in the second half of the lecture.

EDITORIAL

"THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON"

On Friday and Saturday evenings the Dramatic Club is presenting J. M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton," at the New Princess theatre. This is a tremendous financial undertaking for a university of our size, but with the hearty support of the entire university, the Dramatic Club should be able to score another triumph. The production committee has been hard at work for many weeks, and the members of the cast have been studying their lines faithfully, under the able direction of Prof. John M. Baker. We look forward to a very successful presentation of the well known play.

Get your tickets now, if you haven't got them yet. Let's fill the theatre both evenings.

A GREAT CALLING

We can't afford to be provincial in Hawaii. We can't afford to lounge in our parlors in smug complacency while the thinking youth of the world battles on the intellectual frontiers of mankind, fighting prejudices and superstitions and misunderstandings, and leading the peoples of the world in a mighty crusade against the forces of ignorance and evil.

Let us enjoy life. God would have us be happy. So let us live fully. At the same time let us not blind ourselves to our responsibilities as university men and women. There are issues facing our generation today that must be met, and met squarely.

As university men and women we must be continually fitting ourselves for intelligent leadership. We must be men and women of vision as well as of practical common sense. We must be able to think and see a step ahead of the average man. He who would lead must know whither he leads.

All about us, as well as within our midst, things are happening. China, Nicaragua, Mexico,..... what do these names mean to us? Do we know the intense human drama that lies behind each of these names? What do we know of the latest achievements in science, in social organization, in economic adjustment, in government? What sort of historical background have we in our minds for the interpretation of current events?

The "youth movement" of the world is no idle jest. It is a serious attempt by a serious-minded generation to educate and lead the peoples of the world in the mightiest progressive crusade ever launched, a crusade to stamp out the curse of distorted human relationships. Would that Hawaii's youth could hold their heads up, and fight shoulder to shoulder with the thinking youth of the world in this noble struggle!

The world needs courageous, thinking men and women today; never more sorely in all history. O that the youth of Hawaii might realize and live up to this great calling!

FACULTY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Faculty on Wednesday afternoon, March 2, at 4:15 P. M. in Room 103. D. L. Crawford, President.

WANTED—A Genuine Bookkeeper; one who can milk a cow, chop wood, play the piano and rock the cradle.

The College World

Future students will be admitted to the University of Missouri on 12 units, the work of the three-year senior high school, rather than on 15 units, the work of the standard four-year high school.

College graduates form a surprisingly large element among the hundreds of men who wander each night into the Bowery Y. M. C. A. in New York in search of free food and shelter.

The sophomore class of Connecticut Agricultural College has been sued by a freshman for $5000. His charge was that he was severely hazed.

At North Carolina University it was found among the co-eds that only one of them came to the college with marriage as her aim. Last year 99 per cent of the co-eds avowed their intention of matrimony.

Women at the University of Missouri chose swimming as the popular sport last fall, when 186 enrolled for it. Hockey and tennis came next with 111 and 104.

Twenty-eight girls of Wellesley College have volunteered for service on the campus police force.

"The College of the Air" is to be a contribution of New York University. The station WOR is to broadcast a series of lectures to be given by the faculty of that place.

E. H. Baker Speak To University Students of news coming to the office of the big papers by telegraph and from correspondents.

Aim of Papers

"The truthful and unbiased report of all world and local news should be the aim of every newspaper," the speaker continued. "In matters of politics, each paper has its preferences, and does its best to see the men of its party elected, if it is a strong party paper. A better way is to support the best men, regardless of political affiliations.

"There is always room in the newspaper game, as well as in any other, for the man or woman who is determined to make good, but there is little room for those who just drift along without aim or objective. They usually drift in, and drift out again rather quickly. The newspaper game is not an easy 'graft,' but it is one of the most fascinating fields of endeavor I know of, at least for those who stick to it because they like it."

Press Agencies

In commenting on the Associated Press, Mr. Baker explained how the news from foreign countries is gathered thru agencies abroad, from which the Associated Press gets it and distributes it over the world. In response to a question concerning the fairness of the English news agency, which is subsidized by the British government, often giving out biased news of China, the speaker said that this was the case, and it was an unfortunate condition and one which the Associated Press would be only too glad to remedy.

Outstanding Journalist

E. H. Baker is one of the outstanding newspaper men of America. He started at the bottom, and has attained his present position thru sheer determination to "make good" by delivering the goods to the people whom he serves with his paper.

Miss Maude McKeever and Grant C. Morse were secretly married on January 10, it was announced by the bride this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Morse are visiting at the McKeever home at Lihue, Kauai. Morse was quarterback on the football team, and a forward on the soccer team.

They were married by the Rev. Golder Lawrence, with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Brown, former university students, as witnesses.

Fortunato Teho, senior aggie student, and Miss Susanah Ventura, of the Susanah Wesley Home, were married recently. Last semester Teho worked on the staff of Ka Leo as a reporter.

height. Iris Houston makes a charming heroine. And Edward C. Keyes as the cake-eating crook was especially well chosen; his voice was perfectly suited to the part. Lucy Powell certainly can act bourgeoisie and did well in the character of the novo-riche mother with a "Villa in Newport,—or West 23rd Street." And what a butler Saint Sure was! When he stuck his head out between the curtains, we know without his telling us that he "found it embarrassing to stay there."

"Night In Inn"

"A Night in an Inn" was remarkably well finished, not only for Dramatic Night, but for any University production. It shows what good coaching can do. The play was previously coached by Miss Una Appleby and presented with the same characters except Richard Weight. Why haven't we seen and heard more of Joseph Swezey before? He has the best voice on the campus for a strong leading man. Alfred Giles, John Devereaux, and Richard Weight made good crooks.

Coaches Congratulated

Considerable credit is due the coaches of these plays, and we congratulate Miss Nancy Hall, Miss Davis, and John Devereaux for preparing such an entertaining evening for us in such a short time. It takes a good coach to make a finished production.

Mrs. Peet Is Thrilled By Aquatint Display

Those of us who love Hawaiian scenes, moonlight nights near Grays beach, the cocoanut groves at Kapiolani park, the lovely views from Tantalus, can see them all reproduced in a most startling life-like way in Mr. Lucquiens aquatints on display at Patten's bookstore down town. There is a big thick portfolio filled with these familiar scenes and they are so true to life that you can pick out all of your favorite haunts around here without the least hesitation.

I suppose there is hardly anyone in Honolulu who has not taken the trip up Tantalus either by foot or auto and not one of us when we have gone so far up in the sky and have looked down upon old Diamond Head for the first time have not had a distinct shock. How small it does look from this airy nook up on Tantalus, and if you happen to know the location of this nook, you will appreciate Mr. Lucquiens' sketch of old Diamond Head from Tantalus. You gaze down on Diamond head and it is very small from your great height. Mr. Lucquiens has caught this feeling in his lovely sketch.

There are many others, too, just as startling in the collection and it makes you wish that you had oodles of extra money so that you might be able to carry some of them back home with you and have them forever in your rooms.

"In compiling this material we hope not only to make a contribution to the community and to the islands," Prof. Krauss says, "but also to train the students to think of agriculture in terms beyond the mere mechanics of production. We want them to apply a practical science to agriculture so that they may have a broad view of commercial relations. Our other aim is to prepare through yearly revision and additions authentic statistics which will in time be recognized as a standard for reference.

"In compiling these figures we feel that we will be giving something of value back to the general public which supports the university by taxes."

Rainbow Tennis Team
Scores Four-One Win

Varsity Stars Trounce Waialua In League Match

The Rainbow racket-wielders scored a 4-1 victory over the Waialua tennis team in a regular league match pulled off on the University of Hawaii courts last Sunday morning.

University presented a well-balanced team, breaking even in the singles contests and making a clean sweep in the doubles matches.

T. Kawahara, ranking Dean player, put up a great fight against William Eklund, seven-times territorial singles champion. Although the varsity singles champ was beaten by the score of 6-1, 6-3, he made the former titleholder work hard for every point of the duel.

Captain Kaneda disposed his opponent in easy fashion, beating L. Vierra 6-0, 6-3. The Dease brothers, Maitland and Donald, completely overwhelmed Stone and Howard, defeating the country pair 6-0, 6-1. Black-Cushnie battled hard to eliminate the Robertson-Bischoff duet, the score being 8-6, 10-8. Inouye-Crawford enjoyed smoother sailing than their teammates, and trounced Jensen-Martin 6-3, 6-3.

SCORING

Varsity started the fireworks by scoring one run in the first inning. The Oilers responded by sending four men across the rubber in their half of the opening session. They chalked up another run in the second canto.

[Hawaii played hard and thereby earned two runs in the first half of the sixth frame. The Jawndeeds countered with four markers. They held the Deans scoreless for the remaining three innings and tallied four more runs in the closing half of the eighth frame. Final score: Standard Oil 13, Hawaii 3.

Deans Conquer Pals
By Strong Comeback

Kanky Chun, running guard, was the outstanding star of the evening. Time and again, the Deans' sharpshooter thrilled the spectators with his long archy shots. He scored 14 points by means of six baskets and two free throws. Billy Mountcastle was also brilliant on the offense, making four baskets and one free throw for nine markers.

W. Holt tallied three field goals, while Willie Whittle converted one free throw. Capt. Archie Kaaua, besides displaying some nifty floorwork, registered two points on free throws. James Shin and Hung Dau Ching also contributed heavily to the Varsity's victory.

The Game

Coach Harrison's hoopsters started the game with a dash and vim that not only kept the last year's champions on their guard but won the applause of the fans. The first half ended in a 9-all score.

Pals Start Strong

Immediately after the intermission the Palama Cardinals launched a counter-offensive and piled up a 14-9 lead. University called for time out, and the Rainbow mentor injected fresh players into the melee to check the scoring spree of the Settlement boys.

With the resumption of play the fiercest fighting of the battle started. Only two minutes to go, and still Palama was in front with 20 points to the Deans' 18. Here the Varsity basketballers staged a last minute rally and tied the count when Kanky Chun tossed a long one from the center of the court. Score: Hawaii 20, Palama 20.

First Extra Period

Hawaii took the lead, Chun converting a free throw. Lee Chong retaliated with a field goal, and again, Palama forged ahead of the Deans. Kaaua neutralized the score with a free throw. The lead reverted to the Deans when Chun sunk the sphere through the iron hoop from mid-court. Hong Ying countered with a field goal; and at the end of five minutes of extra playing, both teams were deadlocked at 24-all.

Second Extra Session

The Varsity casaba-tossers continued their aggressive tactics and took the

Plays Palama To Draw

Rugh-Coached Soccer Team
Plays Scoreless Game

Coach Dwight Rugh's soccer players were held to a scoreless draw by the Palama booters in the finale of the twin attraction staged at Makiki field last Saturday afternoon.

(Held to a standstill for three quarters of the contest, the Deans threatened to score in the last three minutes but it failed to materialize.

Donald Dease booted the ball from penalty kick formation; but Rath, the Palama, goal-keeper managed to get his hands on the sphere and thus save the West siders from a possible Dean's score.

Yale Law School
Lowers Enrollment

The following news item concerning the Yale Law School may prove of interest to our pre-legal students:

NEW HAVEN, Connecticut.—The Yale school of law has voted to restrict its enrollment, increase its entrance requirements, and increase its tuition from $250 to $300. This policy will go into effect with the opening of the next school year in September, at which time it is believed the university will be prepared to announce plans for the law school buildings to be erected by a gift from the trustees of the estate of John W. Sterling, '64, of New York City.

The restriction in enrollment operates by limiting the first year class, exclusive of Yale college seniors, to 100. It will mean keeping the total number in the school within 400. The new entrance requirements abolish the four-year course previously give for those who have had three years of college work, and require a degree from all students except properly qualified Yale seniors.

While the complete details have not yet been worked out, those who are admitted to the next entering class will probably be selected by means of a personal interview, an aptitude examination, and on the strength of their college records.

KA PALAPALA

Members of the senior class who have hopes of graduating are requested to affix their signs and seals to a type-written list on the upper right hand corner of the student bulletin board, stating day and time when it will be convenient for them to go to Schultheis' studio, Pantheon Building, to have their photos taken for Ka Palapala in cap and gown.

In order to get the material to the printer as quickly as possible, it is desired that the seniors cooperate. The caps and gowns in all sizes are at the studio. All you have to do is write down the hour of your desired appointment and then be at the studio at that time. This is your last picture for U. H. Be quick and be efficient.

public appearances; on the contrary such practice will be quite necessary.

The most desirable size for this Chorus, considering space requirements, probable available talent and the cost of music, seems to be about fifty voices. Obviously we want the best fifty. Students in all classes are now obtaining the names of those who wish to become members, but it should be understood that any who may happen to be overlooked is expected to make his talents known without waiting to be solicited. I shall be glad to receive the names of candidates at any time, or to receive suggestions or furnish information about the University Chorus.

Cast Has Interesting Time Getting Costumes

What Do The Englishmen Wear At Afternoon Tea?

The cast was at a loss for costumes—What do Englishmen wear in the afternoon to tea? They went everywhere and at last remembered Pecker—He told them English men never wear sport clothes in the afternoon in London. What to do? Tuxedos were out of the question and they had been depending on the plus fours. The only thing left was a business suit or cut away. David Penhallow who is assisting Miss Flora Woodhull with the costuming scoured the country and found the only men who wear them in Honolulu, so Lord Loam (Wriston) will probably appear in a cut away.

In the 4th Act—Dinner time they have to have different costuming and again there is a great difference between an Englishman's afternoon and evening costumes. Even the clergyman has a different ecclesiastical garment for afternoon and evening. The evening clothes were easier to get than the afternoon. Honolulu is not quite up to the mark in gentlemen's tea costumes.

In the 2nd act the great problem was to prevent them from looking so pretty. The storm clothing will consist of slickers and caps rounded up from the students.

The costuming for 3rd Act is the most interesting. Their clothes have disintegrated by this time and the skins they are using are in striking contrast to their clothes when they first arrive on the island.

Mrs. Kinnear Plays Host At Bridge Party

Mrs. Gerald Kinnear was hostess at bridge at her home last Saturday afternoon to a large number of her friends. Among her guests was her mother Mrs. Romanzo Adams.

Mrs. Kinnear was formerly Miss Katherine Adams, daughter of Prof. Romanzo Adams of the economics department. Mrs. Kinnear was also a former student at the university.

Chinese Students Go On Hike To Tantalus, 22nd

A hike to Tantalus was made by members of the university unit of the Chinese Students' Alliance on Tuesday, Washington's birthday. Approximately twenty members met at the Emma street carline at 7:30 A. M. and started the climb up the mount.

The university unit recently staged the play, "Chinese Love" at the Mission Memorial hall, which netted the club over $200.

"I hear you spent a great deal of your time in Italy." Is that so?" This a lady asked of a wealthy, but uneducated woman.

"Oh yes, we are quite Italicised."
